This is a useful collection of themed picture book anthologies aimed at pre-schoolers and Reception classes. Foster seems to have specialised recently in these snippet anthologies that work especially well with Infant children, being short, varied in pace and making a spectrum of poetry styles accessible to those who blanch visibly at heavy tomes! Each of the books found its admirers which augurs well for anyone buying them individually as presents and any, or preferably all, would grace classroom collections. Carol Thompson's easily recognisable style of illustration attracted the children and the pace and clever balance of styles and theme did the rest - we were all hooked!
